

Promote mindset change by popularizing CLD and the National Development Plan III among communities and Civil Society agencies to enable understanding, appreciation and participation as well as policy advocacy and demand for accountability.

Mindset for a Transformed
Uganda

Common Vision:

National Development Agenda
Dignity, Voice and agency for all as the best way to end poverty

Shared Identity:

Ugandan, Regional,
Pan African
Co-creating way forward, and journeying together

Collective Commitment

ownership, Responsibility Ways to create and manage collective change that lasts

The Hunger Project launched and serves as secretariat for the Movement for Community-led Development

The Hunger
Project.

UGANDA

Together, we can end poverty for million of people by 2030

How? By rolling out Community-led development across countries

This aligns with:

- African Union 2063, East Africa 2050, other regional and national Visions and Development Plans
- Sustainable Development Goals (UN)
- Journey to Self Reliance (USAID)
- Beyond Aid and other initiatives
- Decentralization of governments
- Strengthening of civil society

The Movement for Community-led Development.

A global movement, with chapters in dozen countries--and growing

Plot 8A Nakasero Lane
Kisozi Complex
P.O.Box 26393, Kampala Uganda
www.mclld.org | www.thp.org

Community Led Development – CLD is the process of working together to create and achieve locally owned visions and goals. CLD envisions integration of services nurtured by networking, collaborating, sharing and learning.

The Movement for Community Led Development - MCLD is an open platform for various development stakeholders sharing, learning and co-creating; using collectively designed tools to reverse growing inequalities and climate change to realize dignity, voice and agency as the best way to tackle poverty. Around East Africa, MCLD has members in Rwanda, Kenya, Uganda and Ethiopia.

MCLD-Uganda Chapter was launched in 2017 by The Hunger

Why Community-led Development?
Community-led Development enables effectiveness, efficiency and sustainable development Goals. What does success look like?	Touchstones. Are values translated into action?	Mechanisms. Tools for success.
Transformative community change that lifts every person. Sustainable achievement and continuous progress, beyond anyone project or partnership. Communities can and will adapt as new realities emerge	No group left behind: Women, youth, men, PWD, and all members of society are represented and participating Central to all phases: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Local voices/ “lived experiences” Community assets as basis Community leadership 	Quality facilitation Rich co-creation and collaboration Collective planning, action & learning Community capacity development including mutuality and trust, leadership, learning and voice Creating multidirectional accountability and authority Embedding progress so it lasts
Visit: www.mclد.org

Project and currently has 53 members including local and national CSOs; international NGOs, Government departments, Private sector agencies, Academia, Thought Leaders, and influencers spread across regions of Uganda. Chapter members meet monthly to steer the Movement while sharing their methodologies of integrating the CLD model in program activities.

Current MCLD-U priorities include:

Develop capacity and advocate for full adoption and integration of CLD models in member's Agenda.

Support and encourage member organizations to step up and lead their desired change through documentation of CLD living experiences.

Spearhead and conduct cross-organization sharing of ideas and content to facilitate learning, shaping and directing a way forward for communities and individuals.

Conduct collective development of supportive tools to further augment CLD practices.

Lobby and advocate for funding towards community led development programs.

Collaborate and strengthen MCLD-Uganda Chapter while synchronizing with other African Chapters and the Global movement.